

CS update newsletter #004

There is only one topic in this newsletter and that is the appearance of Commodore Scene at the up coming Micro Mart mega exhibition at the NEC in Birmingham.

All the details you need are below in the advertisement. It would be beneficial to pre-book your tickets as they are £3.50 if booked in advance and £5.00 on the door. The special rate that is advertised is for concessions only.

This exhibition is NOT a Commodore show but Micro Mart have recognized the hard work done by Shaun Bebbington in his regular Retro column, and for this they have decided to have a fairly large retro section dealing in Amiga's, Commodore's, Sinclair's, etc.

I have been asked to go along with as much up-to-date Commodore hardware as possible to show the 64 off in it's best light.

The commodore section has been given a telephone line out to show off the 64 connected to the Internet. I will therefore be showing off TheWAVE for those of you who are still waiting to see if it really is worth the investment.

All the usual stuff will be there, including : FD drives, HD drives, RAMLink's, SuperCPU's, CS-SuperPSU's and much more. Software will include GEOS, MegaPatch3, Wheels 64 and 128, GoDot and anything else that you want to see - let me know if there is something you would like to see and I will bring it along.

Oh, and there will be a few games there to play with too ! I will be taking my SX64/4Mhz machine along so you can play Freescape games at a reasonable speed.

I hope to see you there,
